REPORT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE FORESTRY COMMISSION.

The department's policy, which is calculated to utilize the town and state funds in an economical manner, was the indirect factor governing the length of the period in which blister rust work was conducted in New London during 1922. To attempt the locating of currant and gooseberry bushes after these plants are badly defoliated would be an unwarranted waste of public funds. Therefore, as soon as the wild bushes began to lose their leaves, work was terminated.

The following statement indicates the expenditures of available funds in 1922.

Many summer guests in New London come to the library.
During the summer of 1922 sixty different guests came regularly to borrow books, while others came in to rest or look at our many magazines.

During the past year the library has made some new departures, namely, making the library a community center for the children and youths, where each Monday and Thursday evening children's hour is held from 7 to 8 o'clock. Many puzzles, cut-up maps, history, and geography, card games, word-making games, and children's games are to be found on the shelves.

During the winter and spring a reading contest, under the auspices of the library, was held by the scholars of the graded schools. About thirty pupils entered this contest. The following were named by the judges as those who had written the best papers. Leon Bickford, Richard Lull, Elkins school; Martha Stanley, Helen Stanley, Joseph Clough, Ruth Colby, Alice Todd, Hill school.

At the present time a second contest is being held, many more pupils entering. The object of these contests is to arouse in the young people a desire for worth-while books. All of their book reviews must be written on good books—mostly on fiction.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ALLIE J. SARGENT,
Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

---

Feb. 15, 1923.

To the School Board and the Citizens of the New London School District:

I hereby submit my fourth annual report as superintendent of the New London schools. This report includes the Roll of Perfect Attendance and the Statistical Table.

It is a satisfaction to us all that we have been able to retain in the Colby Hill school, Miss Tracy and Miss Barney, and at the Low Plain, Mrs. Shepard. In the primary school we are fortunate this year in securing Miss Theresa Davis, who is doing admirable work with the first two grades. Miss Dorothy Goss, at Elkins, although without experience, is doing commendable work.

Our equipment of text-books has been increased by completing the set of Frye-Atwood Geographies, by introducing Hitchcock's Junior English for grade eight, and by adding several supplementary readers for the primary grades, new desk copies of the Bible and several reference books.

Standard achievement tests and intelligence tests have been given in grades 3 to 8, those used being Monroe's Silent Reading, Ayres' Spelling, Courtis' Arithmetic Fundamentals, Witham's English Vocabulary, and Witham's Geography. The National Intelligence Tests were given in all grades above the second, and the results were found of considerable value in judging pupils' work and in determining promotions.

The class of nine graduating from our elementary schools in June, presented with great success the historical play,

“In the Wake of Paul Revere.” These and other local students are doing work in Colby Academy that compares creditably with that done by boys and girls from the city schools. The aim in our elementary grades is to lay the very best foundation for whatever higher education the pupils may acquire. Our teachers hold high standards and are satisfied with nothing but thorough, conscientious work of the kind that means, not primarily an accumulation of knowledge, but power to acquire knowledge and to make use of it.

The physical examination was made by Dr. Lamson and the following tabulation of results may be of interest:

	1919-20	1920-21	1921-22
Defective vision,	2	19	14
Defective hearing,	0	0	1
Defective teeth,	6	13	9
Hypertrophied tonsils,	8	7	10
Adenoids,	0	1	2
Defects of breathing,	0	0	1
Unvaccinated,	6	8	7

Notices of defects were sent to parents, and in many cases conditions have already been remedied. Bad teeth, enlarged tonsils, and adenoids, are the most common defects and are the ones most likely to cause ill health and mental dullness in children. Often when teeth are cleaned and filled, and adenoids or tonsils removed there is a noticeable improvement in school work. Much care is taken by the teachers to secure proper health conditions in and about the school. At all intermissions the children's play is under the supervision of the teachers. Basket ball equipment has been provided on the play ground, and other apparatus is to be added especially for the use of the smaller children.

Because of the large first grade in the Colby Hill school this year it was found necessary to move the third grade to the intermediate room, and the sixth grade to the grammar room. This makes a fairly even division as to numbers, and the work has been carried on satisfactorily. The Low Plain school has had an enrollment this year of twenty-three, and the total at Elkins has been about twenty.

Two bulletins are just received from the State Department, one on "No School Days," written by Commissioner Butterfield, the other on "Vaccination," issued by the State Board of Health. The former calls attention to the fact that throughout the state the actual time lost in the year varies from 8 to 37 half-days. In this union district Andover lost 27; New London, 21; Grafton, 21; Danbury, 9; and Wilmot, 22. This circular urges the reduction of the number of no-school days and also urges "the school observance of all legal holidays and of special days by appropriate school attention, study and programs." Such observance has generally been carried out in the schools of our district. To quote concerning three of our nine holidays, "There is little reason why any school should be closed on January 1st, Washington's Birthday, or Fast Day. Two of these days have lost their earlier significance. Washington suffered all his life because his early educational opportunities were not equal to those of many of his national associates. It can hardly be said that his memory is best observed by requiring 98,438 New Hampshire children to lay aside their school books on his natal day. Rather on this day they should take up their books and learn the lesson which his great life taught."

The bulletin on vaccination gives statistics showing that there has been an ominous increase in small-pox in the United States during the past few years. "New Hampshire has the lowest case rate of any state and this is due to a great extent, to the vaccination of school children during the years the vaccination law has been in effect." To reassure parents who fear bad results the Board makes this statement, "Vaccination properly done on a clean arm, with pure lymph and kept perfectly clean and unbroken afterwards, never did and never will make a serious sore." It is hoped that in the fall we shall find fewer children still unvaccinated.

For the comparison of attendance last year with the preceding two years I have included the totals for those years in the statistical table. You will notice that the average membership has increased 29.5%, and the average attendance has increased 34%. The enrollment for the week ending February 9, 1923, was 122, which indicates a larger membership this year than last. It is gratifying to find the per cent of attendance increased from 91 to 94, and the number of tardinesses considerably diminished. The attendance has been good even during the severe weather and the bad roads of the last two months. Elkins had 100% during one of the worst weeks in January, when many schools in the union were closed for two or four sessions for storms and bad roads. The increased transportation to Colby Hill this year has been a large expense to the district, but has been in itself satisfactory and has produced better attendance from a number of families.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the Board for unfailing support, and the teachers for the fine spirit shown in all their work.

Respectfully submitted,

IDELLA K. FARNUM,
Superintendent of Schools.
